Recommended age: 4-5 years · dot-to-dot

Tip for parents: Ask: "You're at six — what comes after six?" If they don't know the numbers yet, read them yourself — for fine motor skills the exercise is just as valuable.

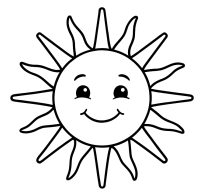

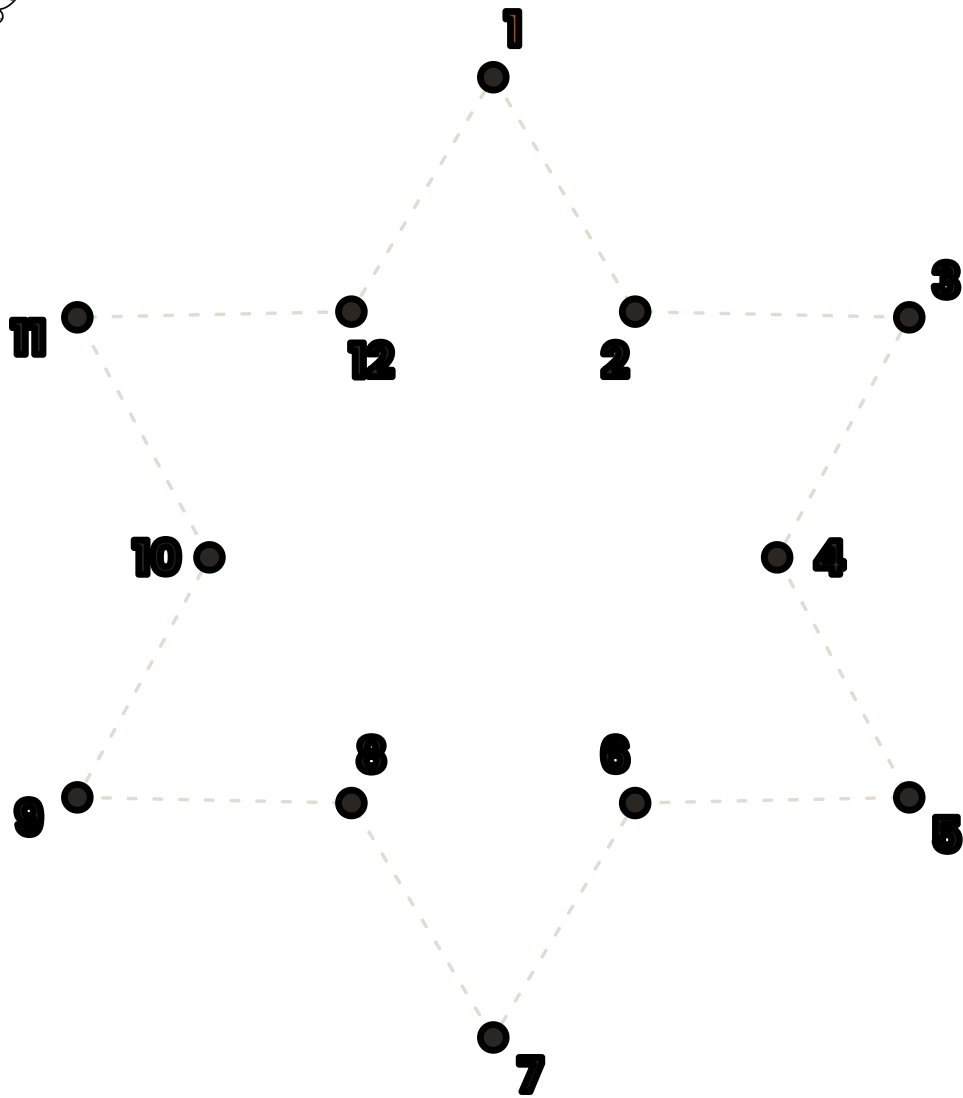

Dot-to-dot 1-12: flower

Join the dots from 1 to 12 and 12 back to 1. A flower in a pot appears. Colour it.

Recommended age: 4-5 years · dot-to-dot

Tip for parents: Praise when the child stops on their own to look for the next number – that is exactly the skill. Read 11 and 12 out loud together before they start.

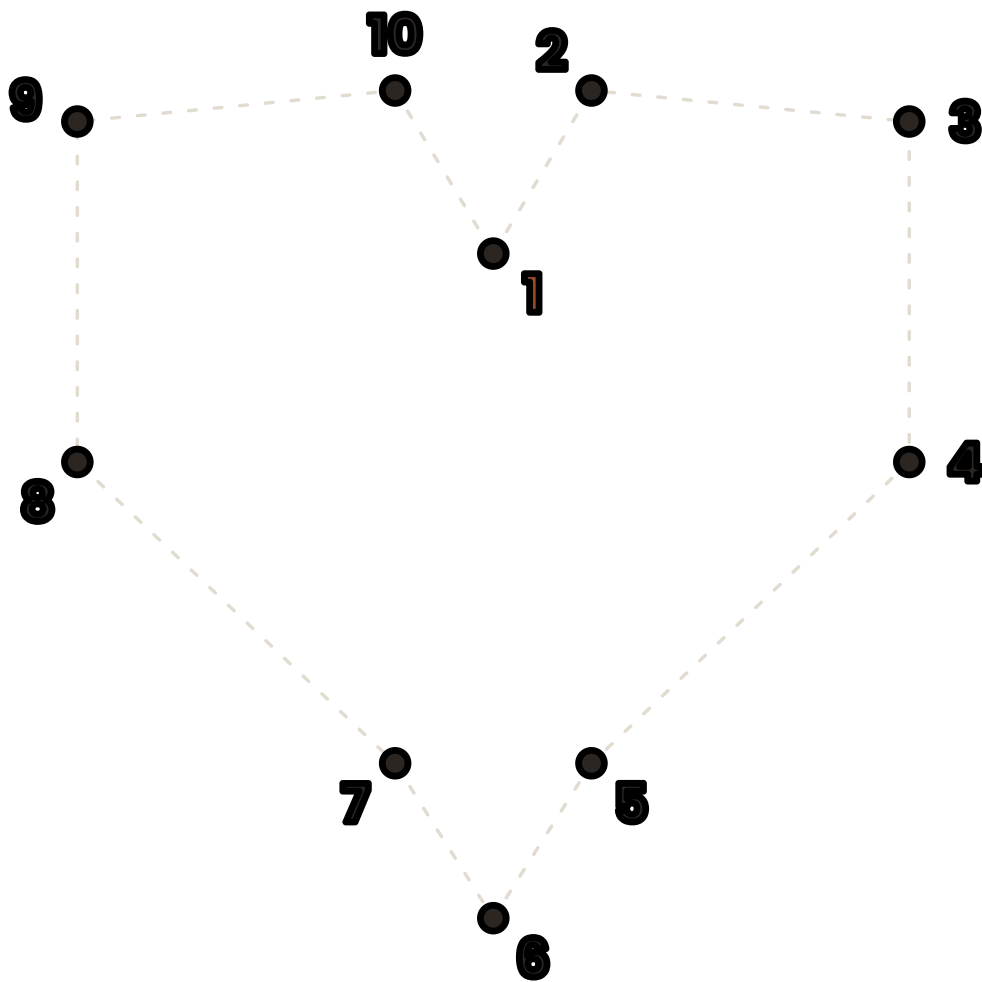

Dot-to-dot 1-10: heart

Join the dots from 1 to 10 and 10 back to 1. A heart appears. Colour it and give it to someone you love.

Recommended age: 4-5 years · dot-to-dot

Tip for parents: Suggest who the heart is for – a task with a purpose holds attention longer. If they join with straight lines, fine; the heart will be “angular” and just as lovely.

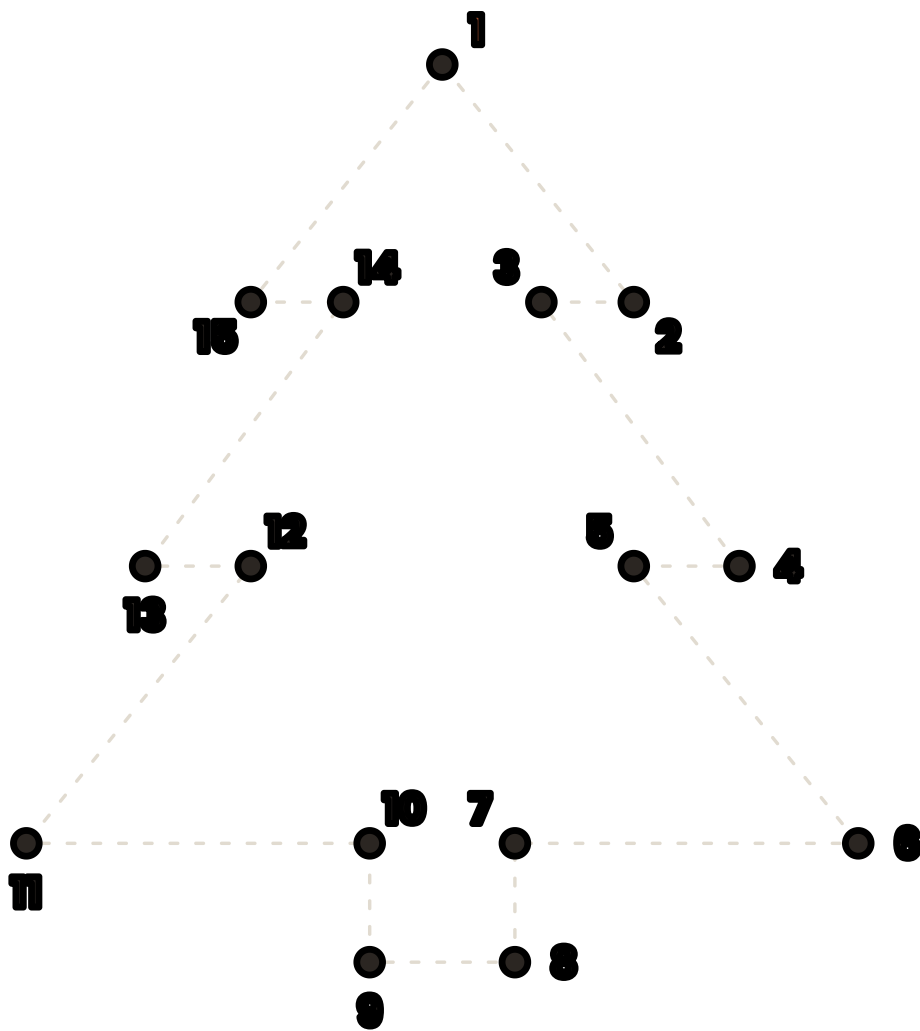

Dot-to-dot 1-15: fir tree

Recommended age: 4-5 years · dot-to-dot

Tip for parents: If the child loses the sequence, don't send them back to the start – just point to the last correct dot. Before Christmas, decorate it and it's a card.

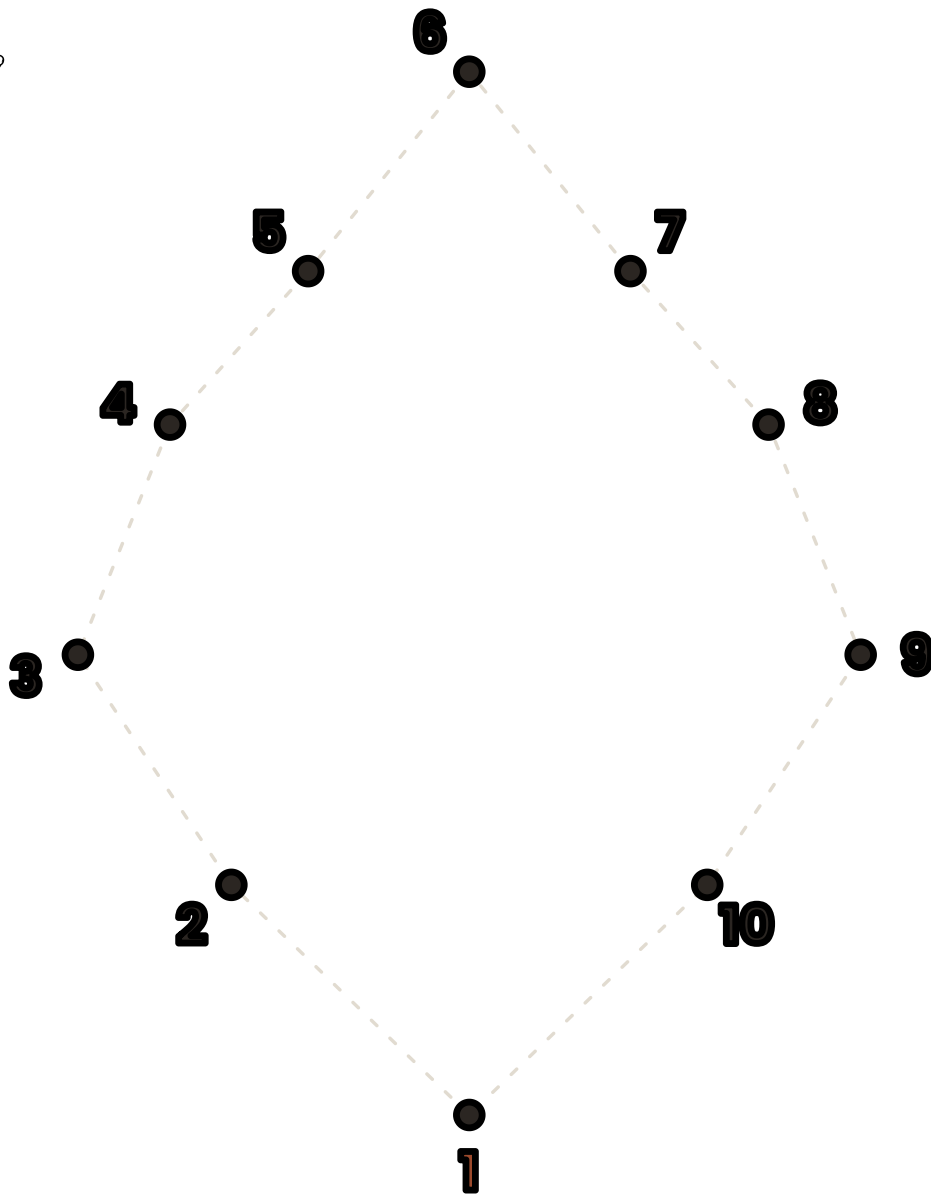

Dot-to-dot 1-10: autumn leaf

Join the dots from 1 to 10 and 10 back to 1. A leaf appears. Colour it in autumn colours.

Recommended age: 4-5 years · dot-to-dot

Name _____

Tip for parents: Bring a real leaf home from a walk and compare it with the finished picture. Colouring with several colours (yellow, orange, red) is an exercise in itself.

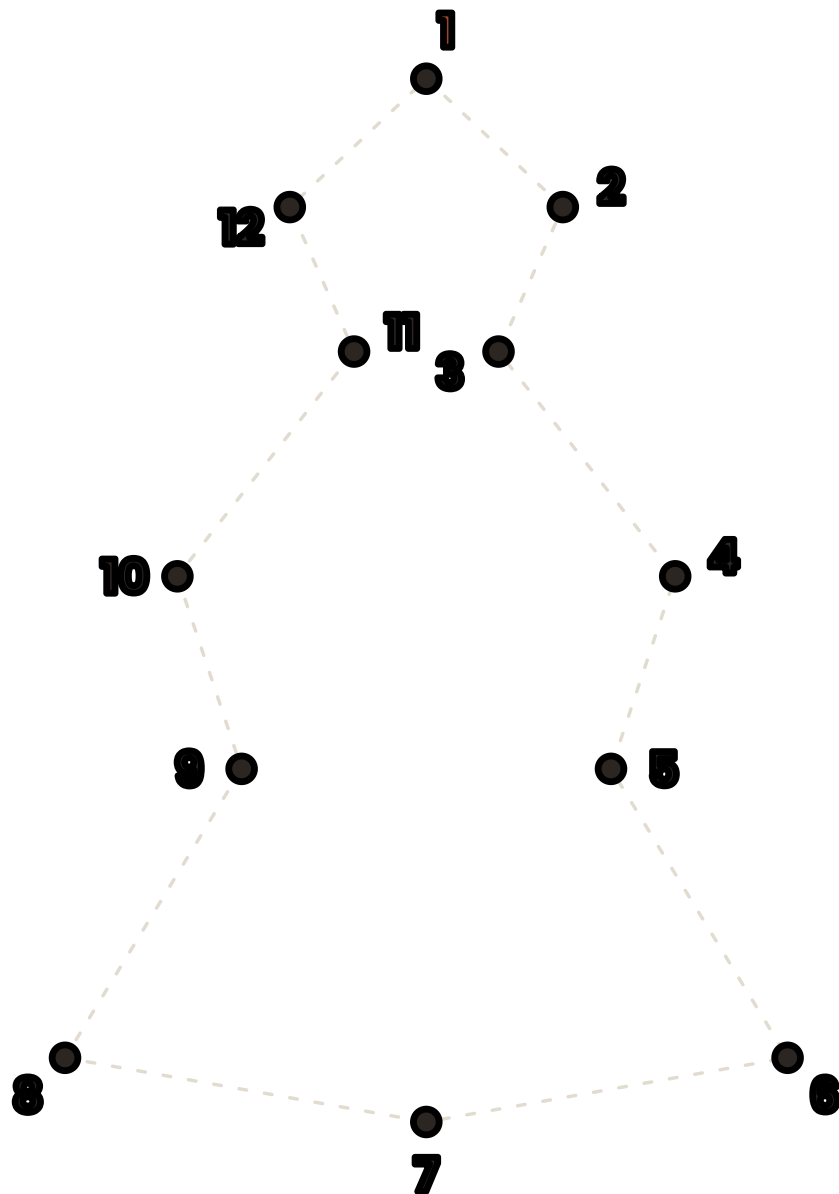

Dot-to-dot 1-12: snowman

Join the dots from 1 to 12 and 12 back to 1. A snowman appears. Draw him a hat and colour the snowflakes.

Recommended age: 4-5 years · dot-to-dot

Tip for parents: If the child hesitates at 11, point to 12 and say "one more". The finished snowman is a good story prompt: who built him?
