

True or false: India

Read each sentence. If it is true, circle the tick. If it is false, circle the cross.

Recommended age: 5–6 years · world countries

Name _____

Date _____

TRUE

FALSE

The peacock is the national bird of India.

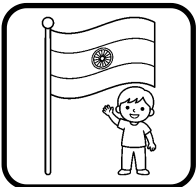

Diwali is the festival of colors.

An auto-rickshaw has four wheels.

At Holi, people throw colored powder.

The Indian flag has a red star in the middle.

Chai is the Indian word for tea.

Tip for parents: Read each sentence together and let the child decide. Then look up the answer in a book or on a map.
Answers: 1T 2F 3F 4T 5F 6T (T = true, F = false). A good sentence to discuss is always the one they got wrong.

True or false: USA

Read each sentence. If it is true, circle the tick. If it is false, circle the cross.

Recommended age: 5–6 years · world countries

Name _____

Date _____

TRUE

FALSE

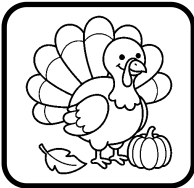

The bald eagle is the national bird of the USA.

The American flag has 50 stars.

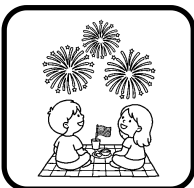

School buses in the USA are green.

Many families eat turkey at Thanksgiving.

New York taxis are famous for being blue.

The Fourth of July is a winter holiday.

Tip for parents: Read each sentence together and let the child decide. Then look up the answer in a book or on a map.
Answers: 1T 2T 3F 4T 5F 6F (T = true, F = false). A good sentence to discuss is always the one they got wrong.

True or false: UK

Read each sentence. If it is true, circle the tick. If it is false, circle the cross.

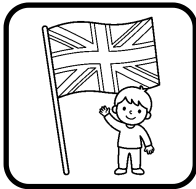

Recommended age: 5–6 years · world countries

Name _____

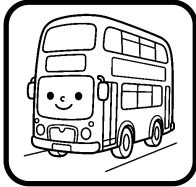

Date _____

TRUE

FALSE

The Union Jack is the flag of the United Kingdom.

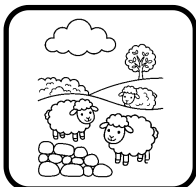

A double-decker bus has three floors.

The classic British telephone box is red.

The robin has a red chest.

Sheep in the UK live only in cities.

Big Ben is a famous clock tower in Paris.

Tip for parents: Read each sentence together and let the child decide. Then look up the answer in a book or on a map.
Answers: 1T 2F 3T 4T 5F 6F (T = true, F = false). A good sentence to discuss is always the one they got wrong.